From the Editor...

Welcome to the first edition of our newsletter which has been born out of two years of literary festivals in our beautiful seaside town of Torquay.

Thank you to our sponsors past and present, and those waiting in the wings.

Our festival is unique to Torquay and, in a growing town, we aim to involve everyone in a hands-on approach to Literature.

Our first meeting for the year will be at the Pear Tree Café Shop 6, 7 Gilbert Street at 6.30pm on Friday 5 February.

Come with your ideas for our festival which will be held on Saturday and Sunday 19 & 20 June.

One idea which was brought up last year, is that we start off on the Queen's Birthday weekend with a food festival and carry on through the week, finishing with our literature festival the following weekend.

We could fill the first week-end with food and music. Do you know that we have between 40 and 50 eateries in Torquay including two wineries? All run by fabulous people.

For the following week we could stage performances by both adult and school groups during the day and evening. Perhaps the schools might like to entertain experts in the field of their choice as well?

If you can't make it to our meetings with your ideas, we welcome your comments on our web site, which is listed at the foot of this page.

If you would like to be on our mailing list, please go to "TryBooking" on our home page. Just follow the prompts to the end. The free ticket produced will be your evidence of registration, or just email us.

Why not advertise with us? Details also on our home page.

Enough about us. Let's hear from you. Articles and items of interest are welcome.

Torquay...

It's hot, but where should we go?

Torquay down by the sea.

The streets buzzing with excited beachgoers,
Surfboards everywhere as far as the eye can see.

This is where champions are born,
Winners grin as they conquer the wild beast of Bells Beach.

I grab my boogie board filled with excitement,
Down to the surf beach.

So eager to enter the water,
My feet barely touch the sand,

I dive into the waves,

Then I grab a ride on the thunderous wonder,

It's power pushes me to the shore,

My heart beats, I give into the force.

I feel so alive,

Sure you can go to any beach,

But no other place can compare to Torquay
